MissionSquare Retirement Fiduciary and Investment Advisory Services

Statement Regarding Fiduciary/Investment Advisory Services

MissionSquare's generally acts in a non-fiduciary capacity as a recordkeeper and administrator for the plans. In the following circumstances, however, MissionSquare, its affiliates, and/or its subcontractors provide services to the plan and its participants as a fiduciary registered as an investment adviser under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. For additional information about these services, please refer to MissionSquare's Form ADV Part 2A Brochures which are available at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov. If your plan is subject to ERISA, then we also act as a fiduciary under ERISA when we provide Advisory Services under the Guided Pathways Advisory Services Program.

MissionSquare Advisory Services under Guided Pathways® Advisory Services Program

MissionSquare acts as an investment adviser under the Guided Pathways Advisory Services (Guided Pathways) program, a platform for the delivery of advisory and educational services to participants in retirement plans administered by MissionSquare. Our advisory services, if offered through the plan, are delivered through our Managed Accounts service. With this service, a participant's investment portfolio is managed through the discretionary, ongoing allocation of assets among mutual funds and other pooled investment vehicles available within the retirement plan.

OPEB Advisory Services

MissionSquare provides Other Post-Employment Benefits (OPEB) Advisory Services, a nondiscretionary investment advisory service, to existing public employer clients who pre-fund their OPEB such as post-employment health care. MissionSquare does not offer OPEB Advisory Services to new clients. The advice is provided by MissionSquare associates in our Investment Department and is limited to unaffiliated, third-party, registered mutual funds and exchange-traded funds. It includes assistance in drafting investment policy statements; recommendations regarding asset allocation; assistance in selecting investments; identification of investment benchmarks; portfolio performance analysis and reporting; and reviews of the performance of the third-party fund funds and the investment manager(s). The advice is tailored to the individual needs of each OPEB client as outlined in its investment policy statement. Each OPEB client is ultimately responsible for the selection of investments held in its portfolio and can impose restrictions on investing in these vehicles.

Fees Deducted from Participant Accounts

MissionSquare may be compensated for recordkeeping services with the following explicit fees deducted from participant accounts:

- Per Participant Fees – A flat fee charged to each participant account with a balance in the plan for administration or recordkeeping services. The fee has a greater impact, as a fraction of account balance, on participants with a lower account balance.
- Administration Fees – Asset-based fees are for recordkeeping services that may be deducted directly from participant accounts in certain plans administered by MissionSquare.
- Optional Service Fees – Fees are deducted from plan participant accounts to pay for services chosen by participants, including financial plans, loans, online investment advice, Managed Accounts, and self-directed brokerage accounts made available by MissionSquare and the plan.

Compensation Received from Funds Made Available by the Plan

MissionSquare and its affiliates may be compensated for recordkeeping and investment advisory services from the mutual funds it administers:

- Fund Plan Administration Compensation – MissionSquare or its affiliates receive payments from third-party mutual fund companies, MissionSquare Funds, and third-party mutual funds that underlie certain MissionSquare Trust Funds. These payments are for services rendered by MissionSquare or its affiliates to plans and participants and are in the form of 12b-1 fees, service fees, compensation for sub-accounting, transfer agency, and plan/participant services. Revenue is subject to change at the discretion of the fund company and is received at various times throughout the course of a year based on the policies of the individual fund companies.
- Investment Management Compensation – Consists of compensation paid to MissionSquare Investments, a wholly-owned subsidiary of MissionSquare Retirement and an SEC-registered investment adviser, which serves as the investment adviser to the MissionSquare Funds; as well as compensation paid to MissionSquare or its affiliates for fund administration services. Investment fees are deducted from fund assets and reflected in the Net Asset Values of the MissionSquare Funds.

Fee and Revenue Glossary

- Plan Sponsor Administration Fee – For plans that charge an asset-based fee at the plan level, the fee charged to participant accounts will appear on the Plan Administration Expenses page.
- Rapid Delivery – Fees charged to participants for a disbursement, in which the charge varies and is based on the delivery method and/or recipient's address. Examples include, but are not limited to, wire transfers and expedited shipping services.
- Recordkeeping Fees – Deducted from the assets of some mutual funds or collective investment trusts, these 12b-1, shareholder servicing, transfer agency, and/or administration fees are paid by VantageTrust Company, LLC, the fund or fund company to MissionSquare for services to the fund, to the plans, and to the participants who invest in the fund directly or through the MissionSquare Funds and MissionSquare Trust Funds. The amounts listed for MissionSquare Funds and MissionSquare Trust Funds, including the MissionSquare PLUS Fund, include all non-advisory compensation paid by a fund to MissionSquare and/or its affiliates.
- Redemption Fee – To discourage frequent trading and reduce the cost of such activity to the fund and its investors, a fund may assess a redemption fee when fund shares, held for less than a minimum period of time, are sold or "redeemed". Refer to the fund's prospectus or disclosure documents for more specific information.
- Self-Directed Brokerage Fee – Fees assessed when a participant voluntarily uses self-directed brokerage account services that provide access to a wide range of mutual funds, exchange-traded funds (ETFs), and individual securities (if offered by the plan). A fee for establishing the account and/or for maintaining the account may be assessed. The brokerage services vendor may assess additional fees.
- Trade Restrictions – As an alternative to assessing redemption fees to discourage frequent trading, funds may require participants to wait a defined period after redeeming shares to transfer assets back into the fund. Refer to the fund's prospectus or disclosure documents for more specific information.

A fixed-income fund is subject to credit risk and interest rate risk. Credit risk is when an issuer of a fixed-income security may be unable or unwilling to make payments of principal or interest to the holders of these securities or may declare bankruptcy. Fixed-income securities fluctuate in value as interest rates change. When interest rates rise, the market prices of fixed-income securities will usually decrease; when interest rates fall, the market prices of fixed-income securities usually will increase.

Disclosures

Funds that invest primarily in small-capitalization companies involve greater risk than is customarily associated with investments in larger, more established companies. Equity securities of small-capitalization companies are generally subject to greater price volatility than those of larger companies due to less certain growth prospects, the lower degree of liquidity in the markets for their securities, and the greater sensitivity of smaller companies to changing economic conditions. Also, small-capitalization companies may have more limited product lines, fewer capital resources, and less experienced management than larger companies.

Funds that invest in foreign securities are exposed to the risk of loss due to political, economic, legal, regulatory, and operational uncertainties; differing accounting and financial reporting standards; limited availability of information; currency fluctuations; and higher transaction costs. Investments in foreign currencies or securities denominated in foreign currencies (including derivative instruments that provide exposure to foreign currencies) may experience gains or losses solely based on changes in the exchange rate between foreign currencies and the U.S. dollar. The risk of investing in foreign securities may be greater with respect to securities of companies located in emerging market countries. The value of developing or emerging market currencies may fluctuate more than the currencies of companies with more mature markets.

Sector funds tend to be riskier and more volatile than the broad market because they are generally less diversified and more volatile than other mutual funds.

Morningstar places funds in certain categories based on the fund's historical portfolio holdings. Placement of a fund in a particular Morningstar category does not mean that the fund will remain in that category or that it will invest primarily in securities consistent with its Morningstar category. A fund's investment strategy and portfolio holdings are governed by its prospectus, guidelines, or other governing documents, not its Morningstar category. Funds that invest primarily in mid-capitalization companies involve greater risk than is customarily associated with investments in larger, more established companies. Equity securities of mid-capitalization companies generally trade in lower volume and are generally subject to greater and less predictable price changes than the securities of larger companies.

Disclosures

Funds that invest primarily in high-yield bonds (bonds that are rated below investment grade and also known as junk bonds) are subject to additional risk as these high-yield bonds are considered speculative and involve a greater risk of default than investment grade securities. The values of these securities are particularly sensitive to changes in interest rates, issuer creditworthiness, and economic and political conditions. The market prices of these securities may decline significantly in periods of general economic difficulty, may be harder to value, and may be less liquid than higher rated securities.

Certain funds may be subject to style risk, which is the possibility that the investment style of its investment adviser will trail the returns of the overall market. In the past, different types of securities have experienced cycles of outperformance and underperformance in comparison to the market in general. For example, growth stocks have performed best during the later stages of economic expansion, and value stocks have performed best during periods of economic recovery. Both styles may go in and out of favor. When the investing style used by a fund is out of favor, that fund is likely to underperform other funds that use investing styles that are in favor.

Per Participant Fees are shown on the Plan Schedule and Plan Summary pages of this report. Two separate lines are used to distinguish between those paid by the plan sponsor and those paid by participants, when both are applicable.
