60/35 Reasonable Retirement

Probation and Parole Staff Petition

Minnesota Legislative Commission on Pensions and Retirement

4/22/2025

"SF1986/HF1779 proposed bill is currently before the Legislative Commission on Pensions and Retirement. This bill reduces the retirement age for probation and parole staff across the state of Minnesota from age 66 to 60/or with 35 years of service. Currently, staff can only retire earlier than 66 with significant financial penalty. In Minnesota, probation/parole staff is the only members of the public safety system without an earlier retirement option. Most of our neighboring states have an earlier retirement option for their probation/parole staff, and most provide an option even earlier than what this bill proposes. For our own health, for the health and effectiveness of the public safety system in our communities, for the benefit of our clients, and for the ability to recruit new staff, we strongly believe the dangerous and caustic nature of this public safety work performed over decades necessitates the option to retire by age 60/or with 35 years of service. We understand that due to the financial realities in our state and communities, this is a self-funded bill. The actuarial work performed for this bill indicates there would be an additional contribution from every probation/parole staff beginning in 2026 to fund this bill and retirement eligibility would start in 2028. Those additional amounts would be 5.47% for PERA members (which would be a total PERA pension contribution of 11.97%) and 5.39 % for MSRS members (which would be a total MSRS pension contribution of 11.39 %). We understand PERA has indicated they would be most comfortable with a bill if the early retirement option would ONLY apply to yet to be hired new probation/parole staff going forward. This is absolutely not okay with all of us who are doing this work now on behalf of our Minnesota communities. We also understand some legislative members of the committee seek more clarity if younger probation/parole staff, who would be paying into this pension improvement longer, are in support of this bill. Be we younger or not as young, all of us probation/parole staff see a great need and value to be able to retire from the nature of this work six years earlier at the age of 60 or with 35 years of service. We probation and parole staff, across all age ranges, respectfully ask you and urge you to support this bill."

And getting in line with our public service partners doing a similar job (corrections officers/police/fire) makes complete sense. Please help us make a difference for our profession now.
Kyle	Bolander`	Duluth
Amy	Perusse	Mpls	As a 26 year Corrections Officer, I have worked alongside many probation officers. I am aware of the harrowing situations they often end up in. I know probation officers who have had bullets fly into their vehicles and others who have been on the scene and assisted victims of shootings. The primary and secondary trauma of probation work has a lasting affect on probation officers and their health. Thirty-five years is enough. So much so that probations officers are willing to fund this themselves. The self-funding is key. They are willing to pay for it so why wouldn't everyone support it? Some may worry about their own PERA plan or feel their work is more challenging, more deserving of early retirement. This proposal doesn't take away from the acknowledgement that being a Police Officer is a hard and dangerous job, being a Firefighter is hazardous and physically taxing and are deserving of an early retirement program. Support of this proposal does not lessen that recognition.

Jeffrey	Passeri	HIBBING	Probation agents deal with clients that struggle with Mental Health and Chemical Health issues on a daily basis. We enter their homes unarmed and with only verbal judo as a defense mechanism. LE deals with our clients for the 15min of the arrest, we work to keep them and the community safe for the next 2-3 years of their life. It is about time we are considered the front line of defense when it comes to change and community safety.

Rachael	Beckman	Buffalo	32 years old While this is a rewarding field, it is stressful, mentally taxing and at times, unsafe. I cannot imagine my parents doing this job right now at their age- out on home visits, searching places for contraband, keeping up with current apps or drug trends, on top of a stressful and often thankless job. We work hard and deserve to enjoy that time when we retire.

Sandra	Becker	Hastings	I have been working in Community Corrections for almost 36 years. I missed the Rule of 90 by 6 days. I would love the opportunity to retire early or at least have the option to. I am about to turn 58 years old. Secondary trauma is a real thing after listening to or dealing with criminals and their stories.
ULYSSIA	SMITH	VADNAIS HTS	I support the 60/35 reasonable retirement. This would allow current and future probation officers who work diligently to provide public safety to retire at a reasonable age. Passing this bill is an incentive to recruiting and retaining valuable employees (all ages) who enjoy the work that they do. Maintaining public safety and contributing to the well-being of probation officers is more valuable than a monetary increase. I'm willing to pay the increased monies in support the 60/35 reasonable retirement.

Brandy	McNally	Morris	This is more than due. The amount of stress of doing home visits alone in a rural area more than a half hour from local law enforcement on a regular basis is taxing. Agents should have an earlier retirement with full benefits.

Betsy	Chadderdon	St Peter	The 60/35 retirement IS reasonable. Please take note of Federal PO's. There is a mandatory retirement age (57) for a reason(s): PHYSICAL and MENTAL requirements are very important in this high risk line of work. Law enforcement officers pay 13+% into their retirement fund. It's about time that probation officers have a reasonable retirement plan. This plan will work and it will incentivize probation officers to stay in this field longer.
Mary	Williams	Apple Valley	I am hoping this passes and allows me and my colleagues a reasonable retirement age.

			Age 57. The work we do in our field for years and years is so crucial to client change and community safety. It has been overlooked for so long. We are now in the community and the homes of the people we serve more than we have ever been in the past. This is helpful but also more stressful and dangerous for our staff and adds additional stress to an already a stressful job. I'm at the age that I see long term former coworkers retire and pass away soon after due to the negative effect of the nature of our job. I like my job, but it takes enough toll already on a day-to-day basis. Please help us that just missed the Rule of 90 and pass something that is fair. Thanks!

An employee should have to work at least ten years in the probation field in order to receive the early retirement benefit and pay the additional increased contribution rate; one year of probation agency service/paying the increased contribution rate should not entitle someone to retire six years early without penalty when they haven't sustained the cumulative job stresses as career probation employees have.

Fred	Stephens	Saint Paul	Probation Officers frequently face danger while working with hi-risk violent and mentally ill offenders within the communities similarly to other law enforcement entities to provide public safety. Probation officers are tasked with providing monitoring and rehabilitation services to non voluntary persons and holding those persons accountable using various skills sets making the job demanding and trying emotionally and physically. Earlier retirement opportunities such as those in neighboring states and the proposed 60/35 in MN will enable probation officers to leave the job earlier to reduce lasting negative impacts to workers physical and mental health. Additionally, the 60/35 will aid in recruitment and retention of capable and skilled persons which will contribute to safer communities.

			others in our field (corrections and law enforcement). We have direct contacts with clients on a daily basis in various locations which is the same as others in our field yet we aren't able to retire until later on. I don't think it's fair or equitable to only apply early retirement to newly hired staff.

Brad	Mesenbrink	Crosslake	This is an extremely important incentive to attract and retain folks into this line of work. I turn 62 this year and can tell you it is not safe to have 60 year olds out in the community checking on high risk individuals. Public safety and the risk to the agent becomes a very real thing. When the Rule of 90 was taken away many years ago, no one seemed real concerned of my opinion at that time. Folks around my age have paid for the rule of 90 and saw no benefit to that. It is time to stop this disparity and finally fix a wrong into a right.

This work is rewarding, and it requires heavy emotional lifting. Each and every day, I attempt to show up to work to provide clients with an approach that offers accountability, dignity, respect and hope. I am honored to have witness such courageous acts of change by many of the folks I have walked along side in my role as their PO. It is challenging for us to show up day in and day out, especially in the uncertainty these last four years have offered us. Dominique	Garcia	Saint Paul	Probation officers deserve the recognition of their extensive sacrifices and stress put on in order to provide a safe and better community for all. Providing structure and consistency is huge, but safety is first. It is unsafe in our line of work to be in the field at ages 60 and above. The relatability, I believe, decreases vastly when creating rapport with younger clients being placed on supervision.

			I support this bill and think it has been needed for many years! Probation Agents work with the same people that law enforcement, jail and prison staff do but not just in the office. We live in the same communities, see them and family members in our off hours as well. Probation agents have to be on alert at all times and in situations which puts additional stress and can impact our health and well-being. Please pass this bill. MARGARET	HELLER	INVER GRV HTS	I am under 40. The thought of having to do this stressful and physically taxing job is daunting. It is unsafe for the community to have people over the age of 60 meeting with probation clients at the jail, in the community, or at the clients' homes. I hope this bill passes so that communities remain safe and the public servants who do this job, don't have to risk their health and wellness into their 60s.

			A career as a probation officer is a here is a courageous one. We get little thanks for the work we do, and we take on a tremendous amount of secondary trauma/vicarious trauma. We need to support our staff in allowing them to retire at a reasonable time and not burn out or scrape by. I am 31 and have been with the county for 3 years. I would like to retire with Hennepin Country. This bill would support this.

			I am 32 years old and have been working in criminal justice for over 10 years. I started in the jail, then was a deputy for 4 years, and have been working probation for over 7 years. To say we don't deserve similar retirement to corrections is a joke. Corrections deal with inmates in a controlled setting. Probation agents are out in communities supervising clients sometimes in the client's home. Increasing the risk of harm to the agent. I am not taking away from the job correction officers do, but probation is just as important, and in my opinion, just as dangerous..arguably more in certain circumstances.

We are often compared to law enforcement, without the benefits. We are in and out of our clients homes, all hours and days. We are required to wear vests, use radios and now body cams. We are asked to do UAs, protect our community from some of the most dangerous people in supervision and they are currently asking us to do this until 66.
